WAR IS HELPING WOMEN'S CAUSE

And It Will Not Be Necessary for Them to Smash Windows to Get Their Rights.

ROME, Italy, May 13.—"It won't be necessary for women to smash windows and go to jail to get their rights when this war is over," said Miss Cristobal Pankhurst to a correspondent of the Associated Press during her visit here for the purpose of forming a closer organization of the women of Italy with those of France and England.

"This war is helping the cause of women wonderfully," she continued. "We are helping the men with all our might, with all our strength, and I am sure they will appreciate this fact when the war is over. Besides, Europe then will be mentally and spiritually fifty years ahead of where it was before the war started. There has been land, France, Italy and Russia are do-amount of physical destruction caused by it, but one cannot exaggerate the mental awakening it has brought, and this means a broader outlook on the position of woman."

Mental Male Revolution.
"This mental male revolution was sorely needed both in England and in Germany. I feel that in helping to down Germany, as the women of England, France, Italy and Russia are doing, by their physical work, we are putting down the great enemy of woman-kind. The Kaiser, you know, has always frustrated the efforts of German women to rise from their subordinate position, and he typifies the attitude of the German men. At that, however, the German women will have to fight out their own salvation after the war, along with the men. They won't get any help from us. There has been too much internationalism heretofore. Now, it will be a matter for each nation to solve many of its own problems and in particular the German nation."

"England has been driven out of conservatism, at last. We women have shown English men that we are worth something, that we are not inferior creatures. I am sure that if women had a say in the conduct of the war, England would have been ready quicker. One of our misfortunes has been that the young men, the open-minded men, have gone to the front to fight leaving the old, slow minded men, in charge. Take the case of the effort to get steel helmets for the men so that they might be protected from bullets and especially from bits of exploding shells. After these helmets had proved useful in France, the old men in England were still discussing the advisability of using them."

"If women had been in charge of the supplying of their soldiers with protecting helmets, do you suppose they would have hesitated to manufacture them in a hurry? Women are too efficient for that. Besides their very love would have urged them on."

Women Know How.
"Possibly the largest lesson for men in this war, as regards us, is that women know how to do man's work, and often better than men themselves. English women are driving motor cars, are working in the factories, on the farms, everywhere. In England we have more learned the lesson of the dignity of labor with the hands, and with woman's hands at that. Today no woman in England, no matter what her rank, is afraid to work, and this is a lesson we in England will not forget after the war. That's one reason why I have always admired the people in the United States—they appreciate the honor of labor, of hard work, and are not ashamed of it. God pity them if their wealth makes them ever forget this truth."

"This dignity of labor, of woman's labor, is going to have a large influence on the marriage question, on the question of nuptiality. It has been asked: 'What will become of the young men of Europe of marriageable age after the war is over, when there are not enough husbands to go around or when the

Yellowstone Park—Nature's Laboratory

Yellowstone Park is the Vacationist's Utopia. There is no monotony in Yellowstone—each day brings you an entirely new set of wonders. You see strange geysers throwing out tons of boiling water, "paint-pots" bubbling on and on forever, canyons which are a riot of color, surprising description, waterfalls of immense height, wild animals in their native surroundings, petrified forests, and a thousand other even greater wonders.

You travel in comfortable stage-coaches or in your own automobile, the use of which, within the Park, has just recently been permitted. Every night you stop at a picturesque and well kept hotel, located in a district particularly abounding in phenomena.

The trip is made doubly enjoyable by going on the BURLINGTON. The most interesting country is passed in daylight. The unexcelled BURLINGTON Service is nationally famous. Your smallest comforts are of importance; everything for your ease is done, even to the starting and stopping of the train without jolts.

Come in and let me tell you what I know about Western travel. My services place you under no obligation whatever. If it is more convenient, drop me a postal. I will send you our folder about the Yellowstone.

men feel themselves too poor to get married and assume the responsibilities of family life.

"Well, the women who must go unmarried will bear their hard lot as they have always borne it; they will work and keep on contributing their service to the nation, in a greater degree than in the past. But we must admit that a happy marriage is the only sensible thing for any woman, and I think that the marrying man's fear of poverty will be gotten around in this way: Women are ready to work out outside of their homes, there is no longer any stigma attached to it, and they will keep on doing so, joining their wages with that of their husbands to maintain the home."

According to an Italian physician, love causes an intoxication of the nervous centers, producing a disease that, if not cured may lead to neurasthenia and even insanity.

Scarlet fever causes the loss of nearly 9,000 lives, eighty-two per cent occurring before the tenth year of life.

There is wisdom in parents supplying such favorites as these, rather than permitting their children to do their own candy buying on the unwise basis of quantity rather than quality.

The craving of children for sweets is a natural one and it is a wise parent who appreciates this and supplies only the purest and best candy. It's always fresh.

Spray Your Fruit with PYROX

Pyrox protects your orchard against the ravages of both insects and fungus, and makes it possible for you to grow marketable fruit and lots of it.

There is nothing complicated about its use; it is an insecticide and fungicide combined, and when applied, rapidly dries, forming a coating unaffected by even the heaviest rains.

Ask any orchardist what he thinks of Pyrox; then call and get a copy of our new and interesting booklet. We sell Pyrox because we know what it will do—any quantity you want, in small crocks, kegs or barrels.

Remember—use Pyrox for Fruit and Potatoes.

SPRAYS

The spray to use

The time is now here when you should take some measure to protect your Fruit Trees from the many pests which infest the orchard and garden. There is no crop that yields so large a profit at so small a cost as your Fruit Trees. Protect them this year and see how nobly they respond to a little attention.

PYROX and CORONA DRY are material with which to combat the following pests: Codling Moth, Apple Worm, Bud Moth, Fruit Worms, Apple Bloach, Apple Scab, Bitter Rot, Fungus, etc.

We can also furnish you with spraying outfits of all kinds. Come in, let us talk it over with you.
